black teas

- English Breakfast* 2.5
A robust, full-bodied flavor with malty richness, gentle bitterness and subtle notes of toast and honey, often smoothed by milk or sweetener.
- Earl Grey* 2.5
A bright, aromatic flavor with brisk black tea notes balanced by the citrusy, floral fragrance of bergamot – often carrying hints of lemon zest and light bitterness.
- Assam Black* 2.5
A bold, full-bodied flavor with pronounced malty sweetness, brisk astringency and notes of molasses, toast, and sometimes dried fruit.

white and green teas

- Himalayan White* 2.5
A delicate, nuanced flavor with light floral and honeyed notes, fruity sweetness, a clean, silky finish and minimal astringency.
- Sencha Green* 2.5
A fresh, grassy flavor profile with bright vegetal notes, gentle sweetness, mild astringency and a clean, slightly umami finish.
- Jasmine Green* 2.5
A delicate, fragrant flavor marked by soft floral jasmine aromas, a light vegetal sweetness from the green tea, minimal bitterness and a smooth, lingering finish.

herbal teas

- Dandelion Root* 2.5
A rich, earthy flavor with roasted, nutty notes, mild bitterness and subtle hints of caramel or coffee-like depth.
- Chamomile* 2.5
A gentle, soothing flavor with soft floral notes, mild apple-like sweetness, hints of honey and a smooth, calming finish with no bitterness.
- Hibiscus* 2.5
A tart, tangy flavor profile with bright cranberry-like acidity, subtle fruity sweetness and a refreshing, slightly astringent finish.
- Rose Petal* 2.5
A delicate, caffeine-free, herbal infusion made from the dried petals of the rose flower, prized for its fragrant aroma and subtle, floral notes.
